

Tekmetric Inventory Integration

The Custom Shopify Tekmetric Integration App acts as the connection layer between the Tekmetric tire management system and the Shopify storefront.

Tekmetric remains the central inventory management platform, while Shopify functions as the customer-facing storefront where customers can browse and purchase available tires.

About Tekmetric Inventory Integration

The custom Shopify application connects the Tekmetric tire inventory system directly with the Shopify storefront.

Its primary responsibility is to sync tire inventory from Tekmetric directly into Shopify so products and stock levels stay accurate across both systems.

Tekmetric remains the main inventory management platform, while Shopify serves as the online storefront where customers can browse and purchase tires.

The integration removes the need for manual product updates by automatically creating or updating products based on Tekmetric inventory data.

Solution we Provide

We developed a custom Shopify integration platform that connects Tekmetric's tire inventory system directly with Shopify stores.

The system automatically synchronizes inventory data so tire businesses can manage their products inside Tekmetric while selling them online through Shopify without manual updates.

The architecture was built with scalability, reliability, and automation in mind to ensure accurate product data and smooth operations between both systems.

- 01 Custom Integration Architecture
A secure integration architecture was built to connect Tekmetric and Shopify using API-based communication while maintaining system stability and reliable data synchronization.
- 02 Automated Product Synchronization
The application automatically creates new products or updates existing products in Shopify based on inventory data retrieved from Tekmetric.
- 03 Inventory & Pricing Sync Engine
A synchronization engine ensures that tire inventory quantities, pricing, and product details remain consistent between Tekmetric and Shopify.
- 04 Automated Inventory Sync Workflows
Background synchronization processes continuously update Shopify with the latest inventory data, reducing manual work and ensuring accurate product availability.

“Managing tire inventory between Tekmetric and our Shopify store used to require constant manual updates. This integration automated the entire process and keeps our inventory accurate in real time.”
